

Prophesy
The Millennium - The Presentation of Christ as King

Introduction

Some time ago I met an individual who was exceedingly clever. He had three doctorates in three entirely different disciplines. I cannot recall what they were but for the sake of argument, imagine one was a doctorate in agriculture, another in mathematics, and the third in ancient Egyptian hieroglyphics. I would be amazed at his ability to learn such diverse subjects and be in awe by the brilliance of his brain to comprehend such. However, compared to the Lord this man fades into insignificance, especially when we begin to consider the “Titles” of the Lord relative to His coming to judge the earth, and rule in perfect righteousness.

The descriptive names and titles of the Lord are not un-meritoriously gained titles, nor are they titles void of any real importance. They are titles describing the qualifications of the Lord to fulfill the purposes of God concerning His kingdom. The questions to be asked are:

- a) “What were the Lord’s qualifications to be distinguished as such?”
- b) “What circumstances made it a necessity for Him being such?”

The following are some of the titles of Christ relative to His coming and the millennium. They are certainly not all of them.
