

A Testimony

Through birth I entered Adam's race
Indwelt by seed of sin,
By second birth, O wondrous grace,
God's family I am in.

No ceremony performed by man
This blessing did bestow,
By trusting Christ, men only can
This wondrous privilege know.

Though long by Satan held a slave
I know that I am free,
Through Christ the Son of God who gave Himself to rescue me.

Pleasures for which I often yearned
In dreary days gone by,
Do not attract since I have learned
That Christ can satisfy.

Thus saved by Him, He leads me on
By aid of staff and rod,
I wait until the morning dawn
Kept by the power of God.

Faultless before His Father's face
My Lord shall cause me stand,
My heart shall overflow with praise
Safe in the better Land.

None there can raise a boasting voice
Brought there by human scheme,
All there in unison rejoice,
The Lamb, His blood, their theme.

So sinner friend consider well
On what thy hopes are built,
The blood alone can save from Hell
And cleanse your soul from guilt.

. . . M. R. Campbell Sr.